

For Immediate Release

April 24, 2009

Miramar, FL –ACWholesalers Warranty Coverage’s for internet purchased HVAC products.

Since buying HVAC products over the Internet has now become common practice, ACWholesalers understands all HVAC manufacturers’ concerns and embraces their worries with only promoting installations to be performed by HVAC professionals. ACWholesalers, the nation’s largest direct marketer of Air Conditioning and Heating products is committed to providing reliable and innovative HVAC home comfort solutions.

ACWholesalers mindset is that HVAC products should be installed to the manufacturer’s specifications by trained HVAC professionals. This assures the highest unmatched performance, product reliability and brand integrity. ACWholesalers takes all precautions possible to insure the best experience with the equipment that is purchased from ACWholesalers’ online store.

ACWholesalers will back up 100% of all warranties as to parts which are offered by the manufacturer. This assures piece of mind after the purchase of Air Conditioning and Heating products.

Frequently Asked Questions:

ACWholesalers offers the lowest prices possible to consumers, but why not promote self installation?

- While there is an opportunity to sell much more product by promoting self installation, ACWholesalers believes that the only way customers can be certain of full warranty protection is having your system installed by HVAC professionals.
- These steps ensure that all HVAC products are installed properly, in compliance with applicable laws, rules and codes, and in a manner that addresses safety concerns.

Is it illegal for uncertified individuals (i.e. homeowners / consumers) to purchase their own HVAC products from a wholesaler?

- Wholesalers may sell different components of pre-charged split systems at different times to uncertified individuals as long as the wholesaler has reason to believe that these will be assembled into new split systems.

- (this excerpt was taken from EPA website under the link:
<http://www.epa.gov/Ozone/title6/608/sales/sales.html#q7>)

If a part should fail how do I obtain the warranty replacement?

After a warranty claim is filed through ACWholesalers website, the consumer can choose two of the following options to obtain the replacement part(s).

Advanced Warranty Replacement:

- We ship the replacement Warranty part to you first, before receiving the defective part. You have 30 days to send us the defective part. A credit card payment for the new part is required to insure that ACWholesalers receives the returned defective part within 30 days from the date on which the replacement warranty part is shipped.

Standard Warranty Replacement:

- We will ship you the replacement warranty part, after we have received your defective part. We do not require a credit card payment for the standard warranty replacement.

We've got you covered!

ACWholesalers has selected the finest HVAC products in the industry to sell and we have assembled the best and most knowledgeable sales and service agents to provide you with the highest service possible. We have spent countless hours assembling this team in place to serve your current and future needs.

For any additional information please visit ACWholesalers at <http://www.acwholesalers.com> or call 1-866-631-6389.